

GE HealthCare named to 2025 Fortune World's Most Admired Companies™ list

January 29, 2025

- This is GE HealthCare's first appearance on the list, marking a significant milestone as an independent company

CHICAGO--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jan. 29, 2025-- GE HealthCare (Nasdaq: GEHC) has been named to 2025 Fortune World's Most Admired Companies™ list. The company has been recognized across several categories including the quality of management, products and services, innovation, value as a long-term investment, financial soundness, talent acquisition and retention, community and environmental responsibility, global business, and use of corporate assets.

Being named to Fortune World's Most Admired Companies™ list for the first time, two years after becoming an independent company, is a testament to GE HealthCare's progress against its precision care strategy across disease states, enabling colleagues to deliver innovations that improve clinical workflows and help clinicians make more precise diagnoses and improve patient outcomes.

"This recognition is a testament to the dedication of our 51,000 global colleagues who help deliver our precision care strategy to best serve our patients and customers," said Peter Arduini, President and CEO at GE HealthCare. "Our entrepreneurial and inclusive culture ensures that the broad perspectives and expertise of our teams continue to build our 125-year legacy of innovation, advance our purpose-driven strategy and help make a meaningful impact on healthcare worldwide."

A company's score must rank in the top half of its industry survey to be listed. The ranking is considered the "gold standard" for employee-centric companies, highlighting employers who have created an exemplary work environment.
