

GE HealthCare appoints medtech leader Kevin Lobo to Board of Directors

March 17, 2026

CHICAGO--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Mar. 17, 2026-- GE HealthCare (Nasdaq: GEHC) announced today the appointment of Kevin A. Lobo, Chair and Chief Executive Officer of Stryker Corporation (NYSE: SYK), to its Board of Directors effective March 13. Mr. Lobo brings more than 25 years of medical technology, operational, and financial leadership experience. His clinical expertise and track record of driving innovation and scaling global businesses make him well qualified to contribute to GE HealthCare's strategic priorities.

"Kevin is a seasoned healthcare executive with a deep understanding of the medical technology landscape. His knowledge and insight will further strengthen our Board as we continue to build a more personalized, connected and sustainable future for healthcare," said H. Lawrence Culp, Jr., Chairman of the Board of Directors, GE HealthCare. "We look forward to benefiting from his perspective as we execute on our growth and innovation priorities."

Mr. Lobo has served as the Chief Executive Officer of Stryker Corporation since October 2012 and as chair of the Stryker Board of Directors since July 2014. Prior to this, he held leadership positions in Stryker's Orthopedics Group and Neurotechnology and Spine Group. Mr. Lobo's depth of experience includes operations leadership at Johnson & Johnson, including as President of Ethicon Endo Strategy, and Rhône-Poulenc, a chemical and pharmaceutical company. Earlier in his career, he held finance roles of increasing responsibility at KPMG, Unilever and Kraft Canada.

"GE HealthCare plays a critical role in shaping the future of healthcare through advanced technology, novel pharmaceutical diagnostics, and global reach," said Kevin Lobo. "I look forward to serving on its Board and working with the management team as it executes on its strategy to enable more precise patient care, drive growth, and create long-term value."
